

Wellness News Network™

Your Source for Health & Wellness Information

Issue 5, December 2019

Know Your Limits This Holiday Season

Presented by:

The holiday season is a time when some of us go overboard and enjoy too much of a good thing. If you drink alcohol, it's important to know your limits.

On special occasions, like the holidays, reduce your risk of injury and harm by drinking no more than three drinks (for women) or four drinks (for men) on any single occasion.

Keep in mind that a safe amount of alcohol for one person may be too much for another. Things like age, sex, weight, and health history, means alcohol can affect people differently. If you're an adult who doesn't weigh a lot, is younger than 25 or older than 65, or isn't used to drinking, you need to be even more careful about how much alcohol you drink.

Reduce your long-term health risks by drinking no more than:

- 10 drinks a week for women, with no more than two drinks a day most days.
- 15 drinks a week for men, with no more than three drinks a day most days.

Presented by:

- Plan non-drinking days every week to avoid developing a habit.

If you choose to drink, here are some things you can do to reduce your risk of getting sick or injured:

- Set limits for yourself and stick to it.
- Drink slowly and have no more than two drinks in a three hour period.
- For every alcoholic drink have one non-alcoholic drink.
- Eat before and while you are drinking.

Do not drink when you are driving, taking medicine or others drugs that interact with alcohol.

Drinking is a personal choice. If you choose to drink know your limits and remember there are times when there is a zero limit.

Disclaimer: Information contained in the Wellness News Network Newsletter is for educational and general purposes only and is designed to assist you in making informed decisions about your health. Any information contained herein is not intended to substitute advice from your physician or other healthcare professional.